Updated March 2017

PREAMBLE: It is the intent of the American Pinzgauer Junior Show to provide each exhibitor an atmosphere of competitive spirit that promotes an educational experience, as well as honesty and integrity through competition. As an exhibitor, you have spent countless hours caring for your animal(s). Through this project you have gained knowledge in animal husbandry that includes: selection, genetics, nutrition, health, fitting, showing, economics and marketing. By participating in this competitive event, you are putting your hard work and effort on display before judges who will evaluate your Pinzgauer livestock in these shows. You are also on display before the general public who views the American Pinzgauer Association as an organization which is preparing you as a future leader in this association and in life.

Each of you should have the utmost satisfaction in knowing that you are entering this event with a clear conscience, that you did your best, and that you will walk away with more knowledge than you had coming into this competition. This experience is a valuable lesson, which will allow you to gain knowledge and enable you to improve each time you participate. The American Pinzgauer Association strives to provide each participant an opportunity to enjoy competitive excellence. Remember the choices you make today will determine what you will have, be, and do in the many tomorrows of your life.

The American Pinzgauer Association expects each youth exhibitor to present an honest exhibit for competition to the best of their ability. There is no place for individuals who incorporate deception, dishonesty, cheating, or sacrifice the humane treatment of animals as the cost of winning a show. Cheating defeats the purpose of the livestock show which is to teach animal husbandry and to improve the genetic pool. Above all, be honest with yourself and fellow livestock exhibitors.

On behalf of all the members of the American Pinzgauer Association, the President of the APA, the Board of Directors of the APA and the APA region hosting any show, we express to each of you our best wishes during the livestock show. We hope the experiences you gain will be positive and educational; challenge you to continue improving your skills in animal management; provide you with an understanding atmosphere of good sportsmanship and help to promote honesty and integrity in everything you do.

PURPOSE OF THE JUNIOR LIVESTOCK PROJECT

The American Pinzgauer Association and the American Pinzgauer Junior Rules Committee encourages the American Pinzgauer Junior Members to exhibit their Pinzgauer animals in the National APA, Regional APA, 4H and FFA Livestock projects. These livestock projects (1) are tools for development of living skills for APA Junior members (2) provide an opportunity to expand their knowledge of livestock production, animal welfare and management, (3) improve and enhance Pinzgauer production in their region and state. Therefore, the purpose of the Pinzgauer Junior livestock program is to provide opportunities for our young men and women to develop character and living skills. Character traits identified are: leadership, honesty, respect, trustworthiness, fairness, responsibility caring, integrity, self-esteem, dedication, and citizenship. Juniors develop living skills and character traits when they are involved in each phase of the Pinzgauer Livestock Project from selection, to caring for the animal and on through to the show ring. The Junior Pinzgauer member is deprived of these living skills when he or she is not the primary person involved in fitting, grooming, caring and showing of the Pinzgauer animal. Any assistance provided by others in the care, grooming, fitting or showing of the Pinzgauer animal should be to instruct or teach.
